About our In-House HR Service

We are able to provide a high level of HR assistance to businesses looking to go beyond external HR support.

As businesses seek to grow and professionalise, they often need on-site assistance with the implementation of HR procedures and policies.

Our in-house HR offering allows businesses to choose the number of days' support per week or per month they require on-site, providing a flexible in-house HR solution.

CONTACT US

Our in-house HR service can be provided as a stand-alone service or to complement our standard GatekeeperHR offering. Contact us for an informal chat about how we can help your business.

“As well as having access to the GatekeeperHR team who provide legal advice whenever we need it, we also make use of their In-House HR Service. Having a dedicated HR professional on-site not only makes a huge difference to the way our people work, it is also a cost effective way to ensure we maintain a professional and expert HR function within our business.”
